

Natural Language Acquisition on the Autism Spectrum:
The Journey from Echolalia to Self-Generated Language
by Marge Blanc, M. A., CCC-SLP

Section 1: Getting Started with Natural Language Acquisition

Introduction

Chapter 1. Echolalia Revisited: Gestalt Language Development

Chapter 2. Back to Bevin: Out of the 'Textbook' and into Real Life!

Chapter 3. Summary: What We've Learned So Far

Section 2: Theoretical Background: Echolalia and Grammar

Introduction

Chapter 4. Echolalia Isn't Just About Autism

Chapter 5. Readiness for Grammar

Chapter 6. Summary of Theory

Section 3: Preschoolers: Assessing their Language and Planning its Development

Introduction

Chapter 7. Intervention for Preschool Children: Applying the Principles, Looking at Individual Differences

Chapter 8. The Textbook Approach to Preschoolers: Dylan's Story in Depth

Chapter 9. When Motor Development Lags Behind, It All Sounds Like Jargon

Chapter 10. Variations of the Preschool Story

Chapter 11. Preschool Strategies and Considerations

Section 4: Elementary School Kids

Introduction

Chapter 12. Our Preschool Kids Grow Up: Continuing the NLA Process in Elementary School

Chapter 13. Starting the Process at the Elementary Age

Chapter 14. Considerations for Elementary School Students

Section 5: Older Students: Middle and High School, Life-Long Learners

Introduction

Chapter 15. Developing Language in Middle School

Chapter 16. High School and Life-Long Learners: Functional Communication

Chapter 17. Considerations for Older Students and Life-Long Learners

Chapter 18: In Conclusion

Section 6: For Speech-Language Pathologists: Language Sampling, Assessment, and Intervention

Chapter 19. Collecting and Analyzing a Language Sample

Appendix A: Natural Language Acquisition Summary

Appendix B: Assessment Form: Natural Language Acquisition

Appendix C: Developmental Sentence Scoring

Appendix D: Developmental Sentence Analysis: A Grammatical Assessment Procedure of Speech and Language Clinicians

Appendix E: Natural Language Acquisition Assessment: Dylan

Appendix F: Natural Language Acquisition Assessment: Bevin