Much of the work we have done thus far has been accomplished in a lesson setting. The good thing about this is that we've been able to practice our conversations in an ideal setting. However, conversations in the real world don't happen in a controlled environment. They are often fast paced and unpredictable.

So in the final two lessons, we're going to consider new places where we can practice our conversations. There is no better place to practice them than in the actual situations where they are likely to occur.

That's where you come in. With your permission, I would like to schedule some field trips into the community so that your child can have an opportunity to put into practice what they have been working so hard to learn.

PERMISSION FORM: If you are interested in having your child participate in the field trips, please fill out and sign the attached permission slip and return it to me by _____. At the bottom of the form, please select an appointment time to meet with me so that we can sit down and see how we can best coordinate our roles and goals with these activities.

CONVERSATION CHECKLIST: In order to help me customize the activities to best meet the needs of your child, please take a moment to fill out THE CUSTOMIZED CONVERSATION CHECKLIST. This information will be valuable when planning the locations and assignments for the field trips.

Thank you for your support!

Sincerely,
